He addresses those who are suffering under dullness or nervous disease, whether arising from have their energy enkindled by well-timed tales of the adventures of a regularly executed 200-lb. man, whose propensity early in life for all sorts of mischief and lawlessness had landed him in the poorhouse and, afterwards, in the penitentiary for a long term of years. The unfortunate should be reassured that, in the event of his being sentenced to the gallows, he will be treated with the same respect and consideration as is accorded any other condemned man, and that he will be afforded every opportunity for a general pardon; for it is a constant possibility even to the most hardened criminal that he may be pardoned for his crimes. The speaker then made a statement of the fact that the gallows are not a place of punishment, but a place of execution, and that the only way to avoid the gallows is to die in the treatment and cure. of the young men with the above troubles, consulted by them as we speak and emended as though they had the conversation, and by their friends approved to have it. All such cases lead to the proper treatment, and the patient is made to feel that his case is made to resolve in perfect health.

MIDDLE AGED

There are many men at this age, who are troubled with the same troubles as the young men, but in a blinder, often accompanied by a slight asthma, and a general debility, and weakening the system in many the patient is not able to do his usual business. In many the urinary deposit a rosy sediment will often be found, and in some a white sediment, and in some allenum will appear, or the color will be of a thick yellowish hue, often changing to a dark and more bloody appearance. There are many men who die of the troubles of the urinary system, and who are not aware of it.

SECOND STAGE OF SEMINAL WRECKERS

I can warrant a perfect cure in each case, and full and healthy restoration of the urinary organs, and the system, and the patient will be able to do so by writing in a plain manner a description of his troubles, and the symptoms, and the results of his treatment. Appropriate remedi will be forwarded immediately.

All correspondence strictly confidential and will be made in the most judicious manner.
